Convenor's message

We welcome Alison Stobbs to her new role of HNW treasurer. We know that Alison will bring her attention to detail and gentle persuasiveness to this important role. Many thanks to Ann Woolley for her loyal and efficient service as treasurer over many years. Ann has now taken on the role of secretary, another vital role that keeps HNW functioning.

Another busy month for HNW started with Lily Neil's terrific introduction to Rag Time music on the harp, a Zoom workshop. It was a session full of interest and plenty of challenge.

We were delighted with the success of Karen Marshalsay's visit to Cumbria. Karen's varied concert held at the Farmers' Arms, Lowick Green, was enjoyed by an audience of almost 40. The Farmers Arms are keen to work with us again in the future. The workshop the next day reminded us of a piece from Karen's composition for HNW of 2015-16, "The Lay of the Land". Should we would revisit this piece? Karen's three harps including a Bray harp and a wire-strung harp provided much fascination both at the concert and the workshop,

Mary Dunsford's Zoom practice for the Christmas Party was very well attended providing useful guidance on the chosen pieces and much encouragement. Thank you Mary.

The Higham Hall weekend is coming up soon. We look forward to welcoming Shelley Fairplay and Rachel Newton to this beautiful venue for a weekend of enjoyable harping and great company. There were a few places still available last time I checked.

Christmas party preparations continue this month with a live rehearsal led by Mary at Skelton Toppin Hall, just north west of Penrith. Making a full day of it, and after a shared lunch, in the afternoon we'll share seasonal tunes and maybe practise the Christmas pieces some more.

Mary will lead a Beginners' Workshop on the same day in the same venue in the afternoon. So if you know anyone who is keen to try playing the harp please encourage them to come along. We have harps available to hire at the moment.

... and it's not long until the HNW Christmas Party on Saturday 3rd Dec at Burton in Kendal. Hope you can make it either live or on Zoom! Gill

NEWS of Recent HNW Events

Concert by Karen Marshalsay

Two reports from members who thoroughly enjoyed the concert and workshop by Karen Marshalsay in October. Thanks to Veronica and Val!

'On the evening of 14th October Karen Marshalsay gave a concert at the Farmers Arms in Lowick Green. Karen is currently the wire harp tutor at the Royal Conservatoire of Scotland.

Karen introduced us to Scottish folk music, some traditional and some she had written herself. Each piece was introduced with a story and she wove her concert around the traditions of travelling harp players across centuries in Scotland.

Karen brought 4 harps with her, using each to introduce us to different modes of playing, with why each harp had been used. She had 2 lap, wire strung harps, played with fingernails rather than finger pads, the music had an ethereal almost harpsichord like quality. Just before the interval she played on a Bray Harp; a clarsach sized instrument with holly "wood stoppers" giving it a harsher, almost bagpipe like sound, developed so that centuries ago the harp could be heard at dances and ceilidhs. She also played on a more recognisable (to most of the audience at least) clarsach, showing how it makes the most of Scottish ballads and tunes.

*The evening was held in an oak beamed room supported by the community-owned pub which gave an authentic feel to the evening. I hope she will be able to come to Cumbria again and can highly recommend her concerts'. Veronica Wilkie

'On a stormy Saturday I was driving along to Shap with a beautiful rainbow stretched across the sky anticipating an excellent day of music. I was not disappointed.

Eight of us gathered to meet up with Karen Marshalsay, whom most of us had met previously when she was our composer in residence. It was good to see her again and to enjoy playing her music. The atmosphere was informal and friendly. We were treated gently at first playing a tune, right hand only, bliss for some of us. Then the more complex elements were added gradually, yet with a freedom to choose as much as we could manage.

*We enjoyed a bring and share lunch, quite like old times, then in the afternoon we tackled a Paraguayan piece with some rather tricky rhythms, but excellently taught. All in all a superb day, made even better by Karen's warm and friendly personality'. Val Gill

Christmas Party Practice with Mary Dunsford. Wednesday 19th October 8pm on Zoom.

More than 20 members joined Mary for this practice in preparation for the HNW Christmas Party. Mary covered three of the pieces. 'In The Snow Where the Deers Are' is a beautiful piece written by Wendy Stewart after a winter walk with a grandchild. This gentle atmospheric piece really does evoke scenes of snow falling gently around deer who remain oblivious to your presence. There is a part of everyone, whatever your playing experience.

Gill Lowden's 'Pachelbel's Kite' is a lively piece with several parts. The swing element makes it really good fun to play. Mary guided us through some tricky fingering and stressed how important the dynamics are in the different parts so that the tune stands out. Gill was inspired to write this following the HNW Harps for Harmony playing and recording of Pachelbel's Canon in D in 2020-21 and spending time flying kites with a grandchild.

Shelley Fairplay's 'Down by the Walnut Tree' will be familiar to many of you as it was a piece taught by Mary in the 2022 JaNEWary Challenge. It is a pleasant tuneful piece expertly taught.

The next live practice will be on Sunday 20th November at Skelton Toppin Memorial Hall, north east of Penrith, with tuning from 10am. This will give us time to refine these pieces and to tackle the two Christmas tunes arranged by Susan Lambert, Three Ships and Carol of the Bells, a Ukrainian Carol. We look forward to seeing many of you there.

The recording of this session was sent to all members so I hope you got chance to enjoy it. Some of you have sent messages of appreciation. Thank you to Susan for converting the video into a HNW YouTube, making it much easier to view.

A huge thank you to Mary for leading us through these pieces and making them accessible and enjoyable for so many of us.

An interesting question from Mike

I had quite forgotten how good Harpo Marx was and this video is worth a watch. Perhaps not a style used today, but definitely shows his dexterity.

'Hi, as a young boy I was mesmerized by Harpo Marx in Night of the Opera playing the song "Alone" on the harp. I was 5 and 62 years later I have often wondered if an harpist could play the song exactly as Harpo did? If someone could tell me if this is possible?

Regards', Mike Kee
